RE: The Volcano Project

Dear Sir or Madam,

Buried beneath the Earth is the original Hawaii Volcano Observatory. 16' by 18,' it is precisely abut the Volcano House itself. It is here, that for the past 5 years, I have performed a Living History Program. I portray the co-founder of the Observatory as well as the Park itself, Dr. Thomas Jaggar.

Theatre and working with at-risk adolescents summarizes my own life endeavors. When I heard of and learned about the Volcano Project I realized how ideal this setting is to project and instill the values of a ethical and moral society. Though I appreciate the safety in choosing well-established concessions, all of them had to start somewhere. May I suggest, it is time to take the risk with a dedicated team and village full of people wanting to make this dream a reality.

Sincerely,

Peter Charlot
